My parents are quite strict when it comes to me using the Internet and have clear rules about what I can and cannot do. When I visit my best friend, she says her parents let her do whatever she likes. #strictparents #notrouble #needadvice

Internet Safety Day 2023

Always keep safe online. Block rude messages that may upset people.

Make sure you don't put your real name!

Don't always trust websites that end in .org

Don't share your email address for safety reasons. No one should read your personal messages.

Treat your password like toothbrush. Don't let anybody else use it and get a new one every six months.
-Clifford Stoll

Make sure you go on age appropriate games, because they could contain violence.

Internet Safety Day 2023

Never share your password with anyone apart from your family.

Be wary if any games or websites ask for personal details. Ask a trusted adult.

Don't go on 18 rated games if you are seven.

Nothing ever goes away once it is posted online. Think before clicking!

Make sure you don't click on a link that looks too suspicious because it might be a scam.

If the domain name is a well known organisation, then it is probably trustworthy.

Article 15 (freedom of association): Every child has the right to meet with other children and to join groups and organisations, as long as this does not stop other people from enjoying their rights.

Article 12 (respect for the views of the child) Every child has the right to express their views.
